Peter Karplus, author of Dancing with Fear, Rejection, Doubt, and Hope, and A Potpourri of Poems, uses free verse, haiku, iambic pentameter, and rhyme and an amazingly sensitive understanding dipped in his own brand of humor as he explores nature and its brilliance, and covers subjects of family and friends, making dedications to those people in his life whom have held special meaning to him as well as illuminating the many shades of love and the range of emotions that are its bedfellows. Then, he follows with a selection of religion tenured poems ranging from the obtuse to the obvious. He goes on to show us a look inward into his life and people s reactions, to his speech impediments and bent body, that he has had to enlighten and change with his lifelong learned teachings, amazing understanding. He, then, continues with an assemblage of assorted poems that range from the comical to the serious aspects of life, followed by a few poems that take a surreal look at the world. Poetic...
